TEN CENTS

Relief Aid Granted To Idaho

WASHINGTON (AP) — President John F. Kennedy granted today $367,600—in additional disaster relief funds for Idaho to aid in restoring public facilities ravaged by forest fires last year.

The President previously made available additional allocation of $220,000 for the state.

State officials have estimated the cost of fighting fires in north

Idaho last summer at nearly $3 million. The President designated

Idaho a national disaster area at that time, entitling the state to federal assistance under the $250,000 allocation Gov. Don Samuelson

asked for more help in paying

Idaho's fire fighting bills.

Samuelson's office had no immediate comment on today's allocation. Sens. Len B. Jordan,

R-Idaho, and Frank Church,

Idaho, said they were pleased with the President's action.

Senator Dodd Proposes Gun Control Bills

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, D-Conn., proposed two gun control bills today, one to prohibit interstate mail order sales of rifles and shotguns, the other to require registration of firearms.

Opposition to registration, he said, "our land will be the scene of more assassinations and attempted assassinations."

Dodd said: "The gun lobby, led by the National Rifle Association, will do everything in their power to defeat it to deceive the public of the kind of firearms legislation it has requested, indeed demanded."

A crime control bill sent to the White House by Congress last week would ban interstate mail order sales of handguns and their over-the-counter sale to nonresidents of a state.

President Johnson called this only a half-way measure and urged Congress to extend the ban on mail order sales of shotguns and rifles proposed in the bill offered by Dodd.

However, Johnson did not go so far as to propose compulsory registration of firearms.

During Senate action on the crime control bill, Sen. Edward W. Brooke, R-Mass., introduced a resolution to delete the portion of the bill dealing with firearms registration, but he did not call it up for a vote.

He said he realized it stood no chance of adoption.

Two Gooding Children Get Fourth Shot

GOODING—The two Gooding

children undergoing anti-tuberculosis treatment after a bat which they were playing with had bitten them got a fourth dose of their fourth shot Monday morning at Gooding Memorial Hospital.

Barry Brown, 4, and Kelly

Brown, 5, children of Mr. and Mrs. Barry Brown, Gooding

were reported by a family member Monday to feel alright except that they had the painful itchy rash.

They are given half a cc of serum each morning under the skin in their stomach area and the serum produces most painful effects. The children's mother and the doctor had to catch the bird were brought home by the children last week in Kelly's purse and deposited on the back porch.

Several days later Kelly told her mother, "That bird sure does itch," and after she was lucky enough to decide to send the bat to Boise for tests, The Browns were notified

Friday that the bat either had the disease or was a carrier and the anti-tuberculosis shots were begun as a precaution.

SCENES LIKE THIS are being repeated all over the country. Citizens, shocked over the assassination of Robert Kennedy, are turning in firearms. Here, Alan E. Schoening of Lancaster, Pa., turns his shotgun over to Patrolman E. L. Boehler at Lancaster police headquarters. Mr. Schenning said he hoped the effort would encourage others to do the same thing. James Earl Ray Indicates He Will Fight U.S. Extradition

By FRED COLEMAN

London (AP) — James Earl Ray made a two-minute appearance in Bow Street Court today and indicated he would fight the U.S. government's attempt to seek his extradition in connection with the charge he court to appear an attorney for killed Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

London's chief magistrate ordered Ray held without bail for another court appearance on June 18.

There was no mention during the brief preliminary hearing of the brief preliminary hearing of the extradition. But Ray asked the court to appoint an attorney for him.

Ray, who was taken away by the 40-year-old escaped convict who had been on the run since the Negro civil rights leader was killed April 4 in Memphis, Tenn., was arraigned under the alias of Ramon George Sneyd and was charged with carrying a false passport and a loaded revolver without license.

The heavy police escort brought Ray secretly to the court three hours early. In the preliminary hearing was to begin. A crowd of about 300 laid siege to the courtroom—labor and everyone entering it was searched for weapons.

Ray had been under heavy guard since his arrest Saturday. He was taken away by a large force of plainclothesmen and uniformed police.

Ray had been in Canada, Portugal and Britain before the two-month hunt ended with his arrest at London airport. An informed source gave credence to a report that he had been living in London since mid-May.

One report was that when picked up he was bound for Brussels, hoping to contact recruiters for mercenary forces in Africa.

A government prosecutor asked that Ray be held in custody, and the judge granted Ray's application request that the court appoint an attorney for him. This was taken away by a large force of plainclothesmen and uniformed police.

Frisking' Power Upheld By Court

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court upheld today the power of police to stop suspicious people on the street and "frisk" them for weapons. The vote was 8 to 1.

The decision, given by Chief Justice Earl Warren, set the stage for the continuation of the protection of himself and others to conduct a carefully limited search of suspects' outer clothing to find weapons which might be used to assault him.

Mrs. SUN LEE said she saw a "fat man" pass a small envelope to Ray about four days before he flew to London May 8. She said she could not give a detailed description of the man and his clothing.

BOB REESE MOTOR COMPANY

Dodge - Chrysler - Imperial - Dodge Trucks - Simca

Sick of claims and boasts?

"$50.00 OVER COST" - "$88 OVER COST" - "FREE TRIP TO HAWAII" -

"$500 FOR ANY CAR YOU DRAG IN" - "NO PAYMENTS 'TIL 1969,"

"$1800.00 DISCOUNT ON EVERY CAR IN STOCK" - "ETC."

. . . then let's talk turkey about a new Dodge, Chrysler or Imperial . . .

We don't mean we're going to give you a car. No one is. If you're practical and wise-headed, you know NO ONE CAN GIVE YOU ANYTHING. You're going to pay for what you get wherever you buy. But you may pay TOO MUCH for what you get! And that's where the smart buyer gets down to some sharp buying.

NEW CARS FROM THE FACTORY have to be readied to drive. You know that. But no two dealers prepare a car alike. Most new cars need some tuning and adjustment. Delivery from the factory, climate, weather, little manufacturing variations, all impose on a new car. It needs thorough, sympathetic attention - and gets it here. (Some cars are handled and delivered like stepchildren!)

A TRADE-IN DEAL INVOLVES MONEY, terms, extras, accessories, time, service details, and attention to a buyer's personal desires, taste, whims, maybe. Then the first 90 days' service is vital. Vital even if the car needs nothing but fuel and a little oil - for your deal is an unhappy one if you don't know you're back-stopped no matter what!

NO DOUBT YOU KNOW SOME MECHANICS who learned their trade on sewing machines, others on tractors - or at least some car purchasers will tell you that. Our mechanics are rated as high as skilled specialists can be. (We happen to believe that a man with a screwdriver or wrench around a car is a menace - unless he's a real pro.)

TO BE A REAL JUDGE OF VALUE, you have to take all these things into consideration. If more buyers did, there would be fewer new car owners sour within 6 months.

We repeat, we can't GIVE anything away. NOBODY can or does. If a dealer is going to stay in business he gets paid for everything he delivers, one way or another. But a dealer who IS DETERMINED TO DO IT can provide you extra VALUE in every contact he has with you or your car. It's the unseen, intangible CHARACTER of a trade, and of service, that GIVES YOU THAT ADDED VALUE.

Intelligent car buyers don't want to deal with corner-cutters. They want to deal with pros who "cut the mustard," not corners.

Come see how we live up to all these important matters. If you are a real judge of value, you'll come out in the long run, a happier, better-pleased owner. We want to talk to you right now. In addition to all the above, we can trade closer RIGHT NOW than we have traded in a long, long time. We've lots of automobiles. And our enthusiasm for the new DODGES and CHRYSLERS makes us eager to put new drivers into them. Come see.

The Story Behind The Housing Units

(Andrew Tully is on a fact-finding-holiday-in-Europe. During his absence, the NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG will be written by distinguished government and political leaders.)

By ROBERT C. WEAVER,
Secretary of Housing and Urban Development

WASHINGTON—Congress has before it a proposal that the federal government assist in providing six-million housing units over the next ten years for our people who today are ill-housed. This is ten times more than our effort in the last ten years.

It demands that such a program will make on America's housing and related industries unparalleled. But, on the evidence of American industry accomplishment, they are not insuperable. I believe not only that the demands for the needed housing can be met, but that they can provide us with a new demonstration of American capability to achieve its high goals.

Business-government cooperation is central to the achievement of American goals. No national problem can be met without this cooperation. And no national problem can profit more from such cooperation than the provision of decent housing, rehousing, revitalization, in America.

Furthermore, there is no problem less likely to yield to solution without cooperation between business and government.

The importance of the private sector's participation in public programs has been emphasized by President Johnson. He said, "On the one hand, a creative, collaborative partnership of all private interests and all levels of government — a creative, federalism — can our economic and social objective be attained."

The private sector today largely agrees with the concept that a creative, collaborative partnership is essential for the health of business as well as the community. A recent AT&T report states it thus: "Today's corporation is an integral part of an increasingly urbanized society. What it decided to do now will do to do to enterprise in complete valence of events that affects the company, its employees, the surrounding community."

"Similarly, actions of other firms, of government, labor, and educational institutions reverberates throughout the economy and the environment. Together, these forces will determine," as President Johnson has suggested, "not only the quantity of goods, but the quality of our goods."

The building of better communities provides plenty of room for private initiative and immense opportunity for private enterprise. It is the new market for new consumers not just for building materials, not even just for the products that go into housing, but, in effect, for almost all the goods and services that go into a city.

Private enterprise must build the housing, provide the products, supply the services.

Governments concern must be to assist the private sector in reaching the capacity for volume that is needed, and in making certain efforts are directed to the special needs of newly developing markets. Government will encourage the newly developing consumer to take advantage of the new opportunities, and to make sure that the new employment opportunities are open to all.

How we conduct this effort involves all of us, especially the business and national leaders. The American Management Association, which says that problems of schools, slums, housing, and the like, are problems "cut to the measure of each of us," emphasizes that for business to succeed aside from the fact of these problems is to deny our communities their most needed resource—responsible leaders."

To encourage and help private enterprise to take a more active role in meeting housing needs, the Department of Housing and Urban Development—in late February opened an Office of Business Participation, with Gen. B. A. Schriever, former commander of the Air Force Systems Command, as our consultant.

This office is our adviser to industry on urban affairs. Its primary function is to provide information and counseling, and to hear industry views. We invite discussion and exploration of new ways of utilizing the managerial expertise, financial resources, and commitment of the private sector to housing and urban development programs. Participation should result in financial profit as well as moral satisfaction to business and social profit to the community.

Tantrums

Sometimes a previously well-behaved child of 5 or 6 will throw a tantrum.

At the opposite pole, tantrums are sometimes caused by the parents demanding too little of a child. If he does not know what is expected of him and has not yet learned to control his temper, right from wrong, he will feel that he has been cast adrift in a complex world that he does not understand and his frustrations will mount to the breaking point.

Q My 16-month-old son has fibrous dysplasia of his left tibia. What causes it? Is it hereditary?

A In children with this developmental defect, bone cysts occur. They are limited to one side of the body. The affected bones are fragile and easily broken. For this reason, a brace or frame of support for the affected leg will be necessary. In some cases, but not all, persons over-activity of the parathyroid glands will effect a cure. The condition is not hereditary.

Q Is it safe for a 1-year-old child to watch television most of the day?

A It is physically safe, but what is early age to start developing your child of many other good things life has to offer!

RAY CROMLEY

The Handicapped Star Of Hope

WASHINGTON (NEA)—Three decades ago in Tokyo's Imperial Hotel, this reporter had the good fortune to meet and interview Helen Keller, who has just died at the age of 87.

This was an experience a man does not easily forget. It was not because of what this wonderful woman said. It was rather the look on her face, her reactions, her movements, her enthusiasm.

She was—then in her late 50s as well as a three-year-old boy who is always tumbling over himself because of his eagerness to discover new things and to take them apart and understand them.

The things she did with her life, the happiness she lived and gave to others, the contributions she made, make it clear that those thousands of children born deaf as a result of the major German measles epidemic of several years back can, with sufficient love and training, become highly useful citizens.

The same can be said for those thousands of other children born blind or with some comparable handicap.

It is this kind of hope that result of the determination and imagination these children must use to overcome their handicaps that they will be above the average in their accomplishments.

When you "talked" to Helen Keller, you had her undivided attention. You could feel that she was attempting fully to understand what it was you wanted to know and that she was then doing her utmost to describe in words what it was that she felt and believed.

Then, when you asked her questions, she would turn her head, her eyes, her mouth, her nose, her attempt to bolster her importance or to show off what she knew. She was what she was. But in this she was attempting to learn what you were and to learn whatever it was that you could teach her, even if you were merely interviewing. Nothing was idle chatter or routine.

If this makes Miss Keller sound like a business type, she shouldn't. She is a child, she is a person who is still learning, who doesn't feel like idle chatter.

Usually this is a child who prefers the company of adults to that of children of his own age.

Because he cannot share his frustrations, he cries easily, goes into seclusion or has a tantrum.

If corrective measures are not applied, he may become an obsessive-compulsive neurotic within three or four years. If this happens, consultation with a child psychiatrist will be necessary.

Helen Keller's teacher, Anne Sullivan Macy, did more than teach her pupil to "hear, speak, read and write." In a very real way, she taught Helen Keller to live life with her limitations. Keller's deafness became incidental. She gave her a reason for being.

All this sounds very analytical. But when you met Helen Keller you didn't analyze, or this reporter didn't anyway. He just enjoyed being with this woman who was neither blind nor deaf.

What is needed when a child shows signs of becoming a perfeccionalist is a more relaxed home atmosphere. This can often be accomplished by arranging more recreational activities involving the whole family—outdoor games, sports, playing together. It is also wise to encourage more friendships with other children by having them in your home and allowing him

HAL BOYLE

No Surrender

NEW YORK (AP)—Nobody can criticize America more when an action of Disney wounds the nation's dreams than the American people themselves.

The average citizen felt a human disgrace when Sen. Robert F. Kennedy was shot down in Los Angeles while campaigning for the U.S. presidential nomination.

It was momentary individual and national frustration. Nobody on the American street gave a damn about what the world thought. He said, as an American, that he did.

Then, because he was afraid and fought against the dilapidation of the security of the way he wanted things to be. There was, at the beginning an encapital pattern.

"Where do you go when you are ready to run away?" he asked. "I want to go to an island where I can be all alone by myself."

"Oh, Christ, no, not again."

"Oh, God, so, not again."

"How do you get out of this foul-up country?"

It appeared from the initial reaction that there would be an exodus by those who feel that one way to get away from trouble is to go elsewhere,

"I am in the bedrock posture of permanence," said one man.

Permanence is mind among 200 million Americans. Their attitudes toward life are unshakable. They are the people who make up the backbone of the nation.

"Would it help any if we all just wake up and surrendered to the kumbaya?" asked one depressed American.

Hardly. It never has helped in all history. Health, whether by a person, or a person, is kept by a fightback against hurt and disillusion.

BRUCE BIASSET

Contempt For The Law Rises

WASHINGTON (NEA)—Religious agitators are suddenly more encouraged not alone in their own rising numbers but in the lessening restraints they and all Americans encounter to-day.

The permanence of parents is now an old story. It extends to them as well as their children, and it is a law that no voice heard in demand that people conform to rule and perform up to some reasonable standard.

Tolerance of misbehavior is at an incredible level. Crimes like shoplifting or theft from hotels are almost accepted by some people as normal conduct.

Some of the young publicly decry the lack of morality in their elders, and then reduce the cry to utter hypocrisy by outstealing them, cheating the airlines by falsifying their age to get younger rates, or by misrepresenting their physical condition to draft boards, and forging documents of all sorts with abandon.

The payment of penalty for offenses against the law is becoming increasingly arbitrary, something which is fairly demanded only of the other fellow. If the call for amnesty by offending students at Columbia University seems outrageous, it should be remembered that Americans seem a kind of permanent amnesty from charges for traffic violation vandals, petty theft and other offense.

The root of all this is the steady growth of the notion that to demand better of the American citizen; of whatever age, is somehow to violate the fundamental precept of democracy.

Our democratic system does indeed seek to safeguard and defend the individual, but its corollary which is often forgotten over such demands is related mainly to symbolic values rather than to attain specific goals.

To the extent that conflict of this sort is present in extreme and even violent ways, the democratic system is imperiled. For those who lay impossible demands upon it plainly seek to discredit and perhaps to destroy it.

Furthermore, extreme and violent pressure by rebels urging one set of impossible demands sooner or later will be met by those who are compelled by force, by competing extremes, to change more widely, that will must be fashioned from many, many more individual voices.

In a world of ever swifter change, the mechanisms of democracy are bound to become more and more fluid. Obviously, they must be modernized to permit quicker response to an enlarged public will.

It is something else again to call for the wrecking of the system. It is something else again to demand that the law be suspended or that it be made to stand still.

Jimmy Brown Arrested In Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Jimmy Brown, former professional football star turned actor, was arrested Saturday night in Los Angeles County by police who said his deputies found a woman on the pavement beneath Brown's second floor apartment.

The victim was identified as Eva Marie Bohmkin, 22. She was reported in good condition at Los Angeles County General Hospital.

Brown, 32, a former fullback with the Cleveland Browns who led the National Football League in rushing, was booked on suspicion of assault with intent to commit murder.

He was taken to the West Hollywood sheriff's substation and was later released on $12,500 bond. His attorney, Jules Covey, said he would make no statement until later today.

Deputies Mike Cole and John Texelaar and their wives called to Brown's West Hollywood apartment at about 9 p.m. after neighbors complained of a fight.

Texelaar said Brown attacked him when he and Cole tried to take the actor into custody. When the officers pulled up to the apartment building with him, the officers said they found Miss Bohmkin on patio concrete beneath a second-floor balcony.

They said she found patches of half and bloodstains in the Brown apartment.

His deputies said Miss Bohmkin carried a German passport but declined to give further information on her background. She and Brown are Negroes.

HHH To Inherit Support

By The Associated Press
Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey stands to inherit such a large share of the national convention delegates left unattached by the death of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy that his nomination for the presidency is virtually assured, the New York Times said today.

This, the Washington "story" said, was the major conclusion of a survey to the effect of the Kennedy assassination on the Democratic party's choice of a nominee conducted by correspondents of the Times over the weekend.

The story also said in part:

"The state-by-state inquiry indicated that more than 400 delegates who have been pledged or are leaning toward Vice President Humphrey are available to his cause and are now expected to support Humphrey at the Chicago convention, which starts Aug. 26."

Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy of Minnesota, the only remaining contender in the field, had 1,000 delegates, by a generally conservative count. The majority needed for nomination is 1,312.

Comparable estimates of McCarthy's delegate strength, not including any results from the senator's death last Thursday, put him at 900 delegates. This left about 600 delegates listed as undecided.

On the Republican side, New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller praised Kennedy today in the first public speech by a presidential candidate since the senator's death last Thursday. Rockefeller, under a Secret Service guard, said in prepared remarks at an Allegheny College commencement in Meadville, Pa., that Kennedy was "someone special to young people" who seek new leadership.

A chain of discount stores in Caldwell, Idaho, said it was under selling guns and turned over its stock of small arms, hand guns, ammunition and related items to the police department.

Turn-In-Your-Guns Move Starts

NEW YORK (AP) — A turn-in-your-guns movement has started in the nation in the wake of the assassination of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy.

And there have been calls from public officials, groups and individuals — for stronger gun-control legislation at federal, state and city levels.

"I don't feel like killing anything more," said Alan E. Schoenung, as he turned in two handguns to the police in Lancaster, Pa., "so I hope people have been shot now," he said.

"I want to give you these guns so you can destroy them. I hope this gesture will encourage others to do the same."

A chain of discount stores in Caldwell, Idaho, said it was under selling guns and turned over its stock of small arms, hand guns, ammunition and related items to the police department.

J-Mart, a supermarket owned by the Rockefellers, under a Secret Service guard, said in prepared remarks at an Allegheny College commencement in Meadville, Pa., that Kennedy was "someone special to young people" who seek new leadership.

Supplying anyone with the means to use specifically firearms, not accidentally or intentionally, not only to our dedicated public servants, but to anyone . . ."

An Indiana-based chain, Won-derland stores, discontinued the sale of ammunition. It stopped the sale of guns two years ago.

The store president, Sanford Friedman, said the store had stopped "to help preserve public safety and sanity."

In Dallas, store owner E. O. Crawford discontinued the sale of toy guns the day Robert Kennedy died. "We teach our children love of a gun and love of killing by giving them a toy gun . . . so they are able to kill," he said.

John E. Fletcher, Denver urged gun owners to take "all firearms in your possession to the steps of the state capital building." Sunday (Father's Day), he urged all citizens to turn in their guns — with no questions asked. Last Friday, Idaho had urged its city gun-control law "with teeth."

Not all the action came from adults.

A group of junior high and high school students in University City, Mo., formed an organization called Students for Arms Control Committee to work to eliminate gun sales.

"The adults don't do anything," said Sharon Lieberman, a member of the group. "They mourn and say they'll do something and then they seem to forget."

"The adults don't do anything," said Sharon Lieberman, a member of the group. "They mourn and say they'll do something and then they seem to forget."

Circuit Judge Max Raskin of Milwaukee urged passage of a law under which firearms would have to be drawn from a local arsenal, somewhat like books out of a library. Raskin said the borrower would sign out the weapon, state his purpose for needing it and sign it back in again.

The crime-control bill which the U.S. House of Representatives passed Thursday includes a ban on mail-order sales of handguns, but President Johnson said he would veto the legislation if it reached his desk.

They are Neil Anderson of Pocatello, Highland High School and George Gersema of Capital High School in Boise.

The selections were announced Saturday in Boise at conclusion of the week-long National Governor's Conference, plans to propose tighter gun laws when that group meets next month in Cincinnati.

A Gallup Poll report released Sunday in Princeton, N.J., said that the special survey conducted on the day that Sen. Kennedy was shot found that the public advocates registration of all firearms as the best way to curb such violence.

A letter appeared in the Miami Herald, signed by a man of all firearms as the best way to curb such violence.

Johnson Sends Condolences To Vietnam Leader

SAIGON (AP) — President Johnson has sent South Vietnamese President Nguyen Van Thieu a message of condolence over the U.S. helicopter rocket firing that accidentally killed one of the Vietnamese officials in Saigon yesterday.

A spokesman for Thieu said the message also expressed hope that the enemy would not be allowed to exploit the accident to divide the Americans and South Vietnamese.

He quoted the message as saying, "We deeply regret this most unfortunate accident, some of your bravest leaders at their Saigon command post have deeply distressed and saddened me. Our prayers go out to the families of the deceased and I should repeat, Rest in peace, and may God bless you always if you would ever return."

Cambodia Releases 2 U.S. Soldiers

P H N O M P E N H, Cambodia (AP) — Prince Norodom Sihanouk today released two American soldiers as a gesture of compensation for the late Sen. Robert F. Kennedy.

The two soldiers, Jerry A. Wester and Ronald J. Lehmann of the 500th Military Police Company, were aboard a Philippine tug that strayed into Cambodian waters in the Mekong Delta.

They were turned over to the American Embassy, which has represented the United States in Cambodia since Sihanouk broke relations with Washington.

In a message of sympathy to Sen. Kennedy's widow, Cambodia's ruling prince said:

"The royal government, the Cambodian people and I want to express our admiration and our respect to the Kennedy family whose sacrifices for the cause of peace, justice and liberty for the oppressed must not be vain for the honor of the American people and the future of humanity."

S i h a n o u k ' s announcement made no mention of releasing the tug or its eight-man Filipino crew. Phnom Penh newspapers had reported they would be treated leniently and would be returned.

The U.S. government had protested the detention of the men and said the tug intruded inadvertently into Cambodian waters due to a navigational error.

The Cambodian government released the prisoners, giving the tugs' passes "clearly visible."

Cambodian border post on the river bank and ignored signals ordering it to turn back.

Earlier, the Cambodian government had offered to release the two men in exchange for two bulldozers. Washington made no reply to that offer.

Church Group Favors Some Civil Strife

N E W Y O R K (AP) — The general board of the National Council of Churches has adopted a policy statement approving peaceable civil disobedience.

The board, in a statement on "religious—ordained—and-church-supported civil disobedience," means deliberate, peaceable violation of a law deemed unjust in relation to conscience or a higher law.

The statement did not mention any specific laws.

The Rev. Truman B. Douglass, chairman of the council's division of Christian life and service, when asked if the policy statement meant approval of draft resistance, replied:

"I don't think I go so far as to say it was all right. The National Council of Churches is not encouraging draft resistance, but it must support the conscience of an individual who has arrived at a moral decision."

The general board adopted the policy statement on the last day of a two-day meeting.

The National Council of Churches represents 34 Protestant and Eastern Orthodox denominations with 42 million members.

Six Delegates Of BPW Return

Six Twin Falls delegates to the 47th Annual State Business meeting of the Business and Professional Women's Club returned Sunday night from the three-day event in Lawton, Okla.

Those attending were Mrs. A. Knox, Mrs. Betty Ainsworth, Mrs. Vera Rauch, Mrs. Alda Strong, Helen Porterfield and Mrs. Little Herrett.

Mrs. Knox, Mrs. Ainsworth, Mrs. Rauch and Mrs. Strong received gold card nominations for attending five new members each. Those not attending who received gold card designations were Mrs. Lucile Brizee and Mrs. DeEtta Campbell.

Tito acknowledged that the government and the ruling Communist party were responsible for much of the unrest among the 40,000 striking students.

He said the party will be purged and its efforts would be made to bring greater unity among party leaders.

The president also promised that those responsible for police attacks on the students last week would be punished.

Tito admonished the students, however, to go back to their studies while the government and party worked out a solution.

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN
DEAR ABBY: My brother's widow has taken up driving a motorcycle. She is 51 years old. She was married to my brother for 30 years and has always been a sensible woman, so naturally when she started with this motorcycle business I became concerned.

I have you or any of your readers ever heard of a 61-year-old woman taking up motorcycle just for fun?

If this woman is getting a little nutty, her lawyer ought to be advised because my brother left a sizable fortune to which she is the sole heir. Please advise me. — CONCERNED

DEAR CONCERNED: If you suspect that your brother's widow is getting "a little nutty," watch for other evidence. Are you sure you aren't more interested in the rocks in her safety deposit box than those in her head?

DEAR ABBY: I take issue with your advice to "DISTRESSED," who wanted her husband to leave graduate school and take care so she could raise a family.

I have seen too many impatient wives drive their husbands out of graduate school so they could enjoy their "dreams" of color TV, two new cars, a family, and a home of their own. These girls don't realize that their husband's potential income is immediately reduced as his ability to advance in his profession. He is apt to be frustrated professionally in mid-career, and if he is unhappy in his work, his home life will suffer.

The couples who are willing to scrimp and work hard—for a few additional years in order to complete the husband's education, to the future, will remain financially better off over time in terms of income, professional and general satisfaction for the remainder of their lives.

Sincerely yours,
I. E. DAYTON

DEAR DR. DAYTON: Thank you for your fine letter. What you say is true, but my correspondent complained that her mother-in-law is a "spoiled student," who preferred the security of remaining in school indefinitely to getting out and supporting her wife and starting a family. In other words, her man was using his ambition by "egghead."

Everybody has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply write to Abby, Box 49700, Los Angeles, Calif. 90049 and enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Miss Richey Tops British Pro To Win Tennis Title

By GEOFFREY MILLER
PARIS (AP) — Nancy Richey, tenacious little American amateur, won the French Women's Tennis Title Sunday and completed her humiliation of the promoter-controlled girl professionals.

Fighting grimly from her baseline, Miss Richey out-ran British pro Mrs. Ann Haydon Jones 5-7, 6-4, 6-1 in the final at the Roland Garros Stadium.

It was the second of the world's major titles to be won by the 25-year-old San Angelo, Tex., girl. She took the Australian crown last year.

The first open French tournament, which she had never before, was nothing but disaster for the four girls controlled by American promoter George MacCall. They were given the top four seeding positions—and all four fell to amateurs.

Mrs. Richey accounted for the leading pros—Mrs. Billie Jean King of Long Beach, Calif., in the semi-finals; and Mrs. Jones' Sunday. In each case she won after losing the first set.

Watched by a crowd of 6,000, Mrs. Jones started in determined mood. She looked a good bit like the star for the third time-in-eight-years.

Nancy made too many back-hand errors in the first set—17 compared with Mrs. Jones' eight.

As an amateur, Nancy is not allowed by the United States Lawn Tennis Association to play for money, so the first prize of $1,000 went back into the pot.

Mrs. Jones won $600 as runner-up to add her $400 for winning the women's doubles with French Duvaline Saturday.

In the opening, the Cardinals exploded a 10-run first with two out in the fifth inning to overcome an eight-run deficit and defeat the Reds 10-8.

Lee May opened the Cincinnati 12th with a single and Perez, attempting to sacrifice, was forced out. Frazier, however, hit a double. Perez missed at first as Johnny Bench struck out but Cardinals then laced his game-winning hit to left center.

The blow planned the defeat on Steve Carlton, 7-2. The left-hander, however, first game he pitched all eight Cincinnati runs. The Cards' 10-run inning took him off the hook.

It was the Reds' turn to come from behind in the second game. They trailed 3-0 after one, but scored 10 runs in the fourth. They got one back in the fourth on Vada Pinson's third homer and four more in the sixth on Pinson's two-run single and Mack Jones' two-run homer, his first.

The tying run crossed in the eighth when Bench's sacrifice fly scored May, who had singled and gone to third on a double by Perez.

With Braves

CHICAGO (AP)—Adolph Phillips' scratch single with the bases loaded broke a tie and gave the Chicago Cubs a 6-3 victory over Atlanta in the second game of a doubleheader Sunday. The Braves won the opener 4-0 as Joe Torre bolted two home runs.

The Cubs, who trailed 3-2 in the nightcap, tied the score in the fifth on Ron Santo's two-run single.

Ernie Banks began the winning rally with a pinch hit off Tony Cloninger. At Spaniard scratched a hit off third baseman Deron Johnson's glove and Randy Hundley walked, filling the bases. Phillips then cracked his hit off Johnson's glove.

In the opener, Kep Johnson and Claude Raymond scattered nine hits in blanking the Cubs.

The Braves scored their first two runs in the fourth when Torre drew a two-out walk. Deron Johnson's double and a walk-off drive by Cloninger put the bases full. Luis Landrón hit a scored one run and Marty Martinez walked to force in the other.

Torre then cracked his homers in the sixth and eighth innings, his fifth and sixth of the season.

BRIDGE

By Jacoby

A SNEAKY WASTE OF A HIGH CARD

Oswald: "There are lots of bridge plays that come up all the time, in one form or another. These are sometimes called 'book' plays because they either have been or should have been discussed in a book some time or other."

Jim: "One of these plays occurs when a defender apparently wastes a high card. Some-suit. Then South should lead his three of clubs. If West is not alert, West will play the five and dummy's nine will force him to drop it. Then on, there will be no way for the defense to keep declarer from making two no-trump unless the defense fouls up its discarding and lets South steal a ninth trick somewhere."

Jim: "I think it's best not to let South see that his queen of clubs isn't going to be worth anything if left in his hand. True, if East started with jack-eight-deuce of clubs, South could rise with dummy's ace of clubs and finesse successfully against the jack, but then South would have to drop it again to dummy for the last two clubs."

Jim: "If West does play the queen and South rises with dummy's ace, South will lose his contract. His correct play is to let the queen hold and East's subsequent discards will give South one no-trump, but not the over-trick."

times he does this in order to keep out of the lead, on other occasions to give the declarer entry-protection.

Oswald: "Let's look at a simple case of this.
